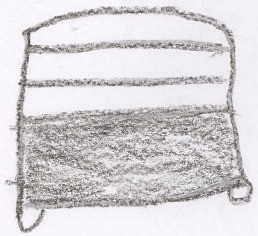
Squirrels Get a New Home

by

Once upon a time there were two squirrels.

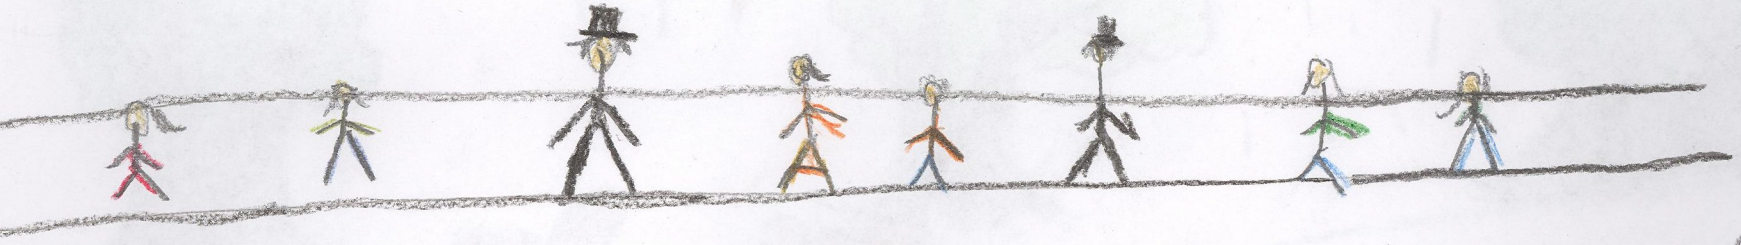
Their names were Mr. and Mrs. Squirrel.



They lived in an old tree in the park.

One day they saw a man coming with a chainsaw. He was cutting down all the old trees.

"Help!" the squirrels yelled.



They ran out of their tree. They looked for shelter, but there were so many people walking in the park that they could not find any.

It started to rain, so they ran to a bunch of trees.

There they met Mr. Chipmunk.
He lived in a big apple tree.

He asked them why they were wandering around. They told him that their tree was cut down. He invited them to live with him.

They said "Yes!"

They were happy because they had a new home.
