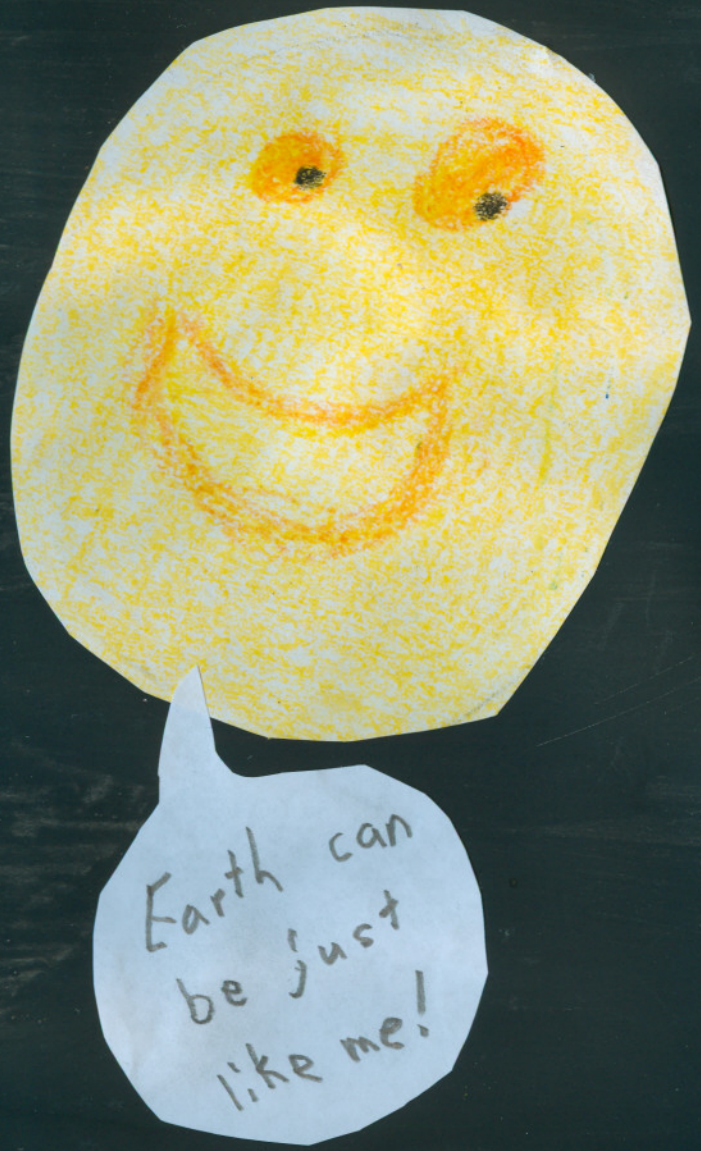
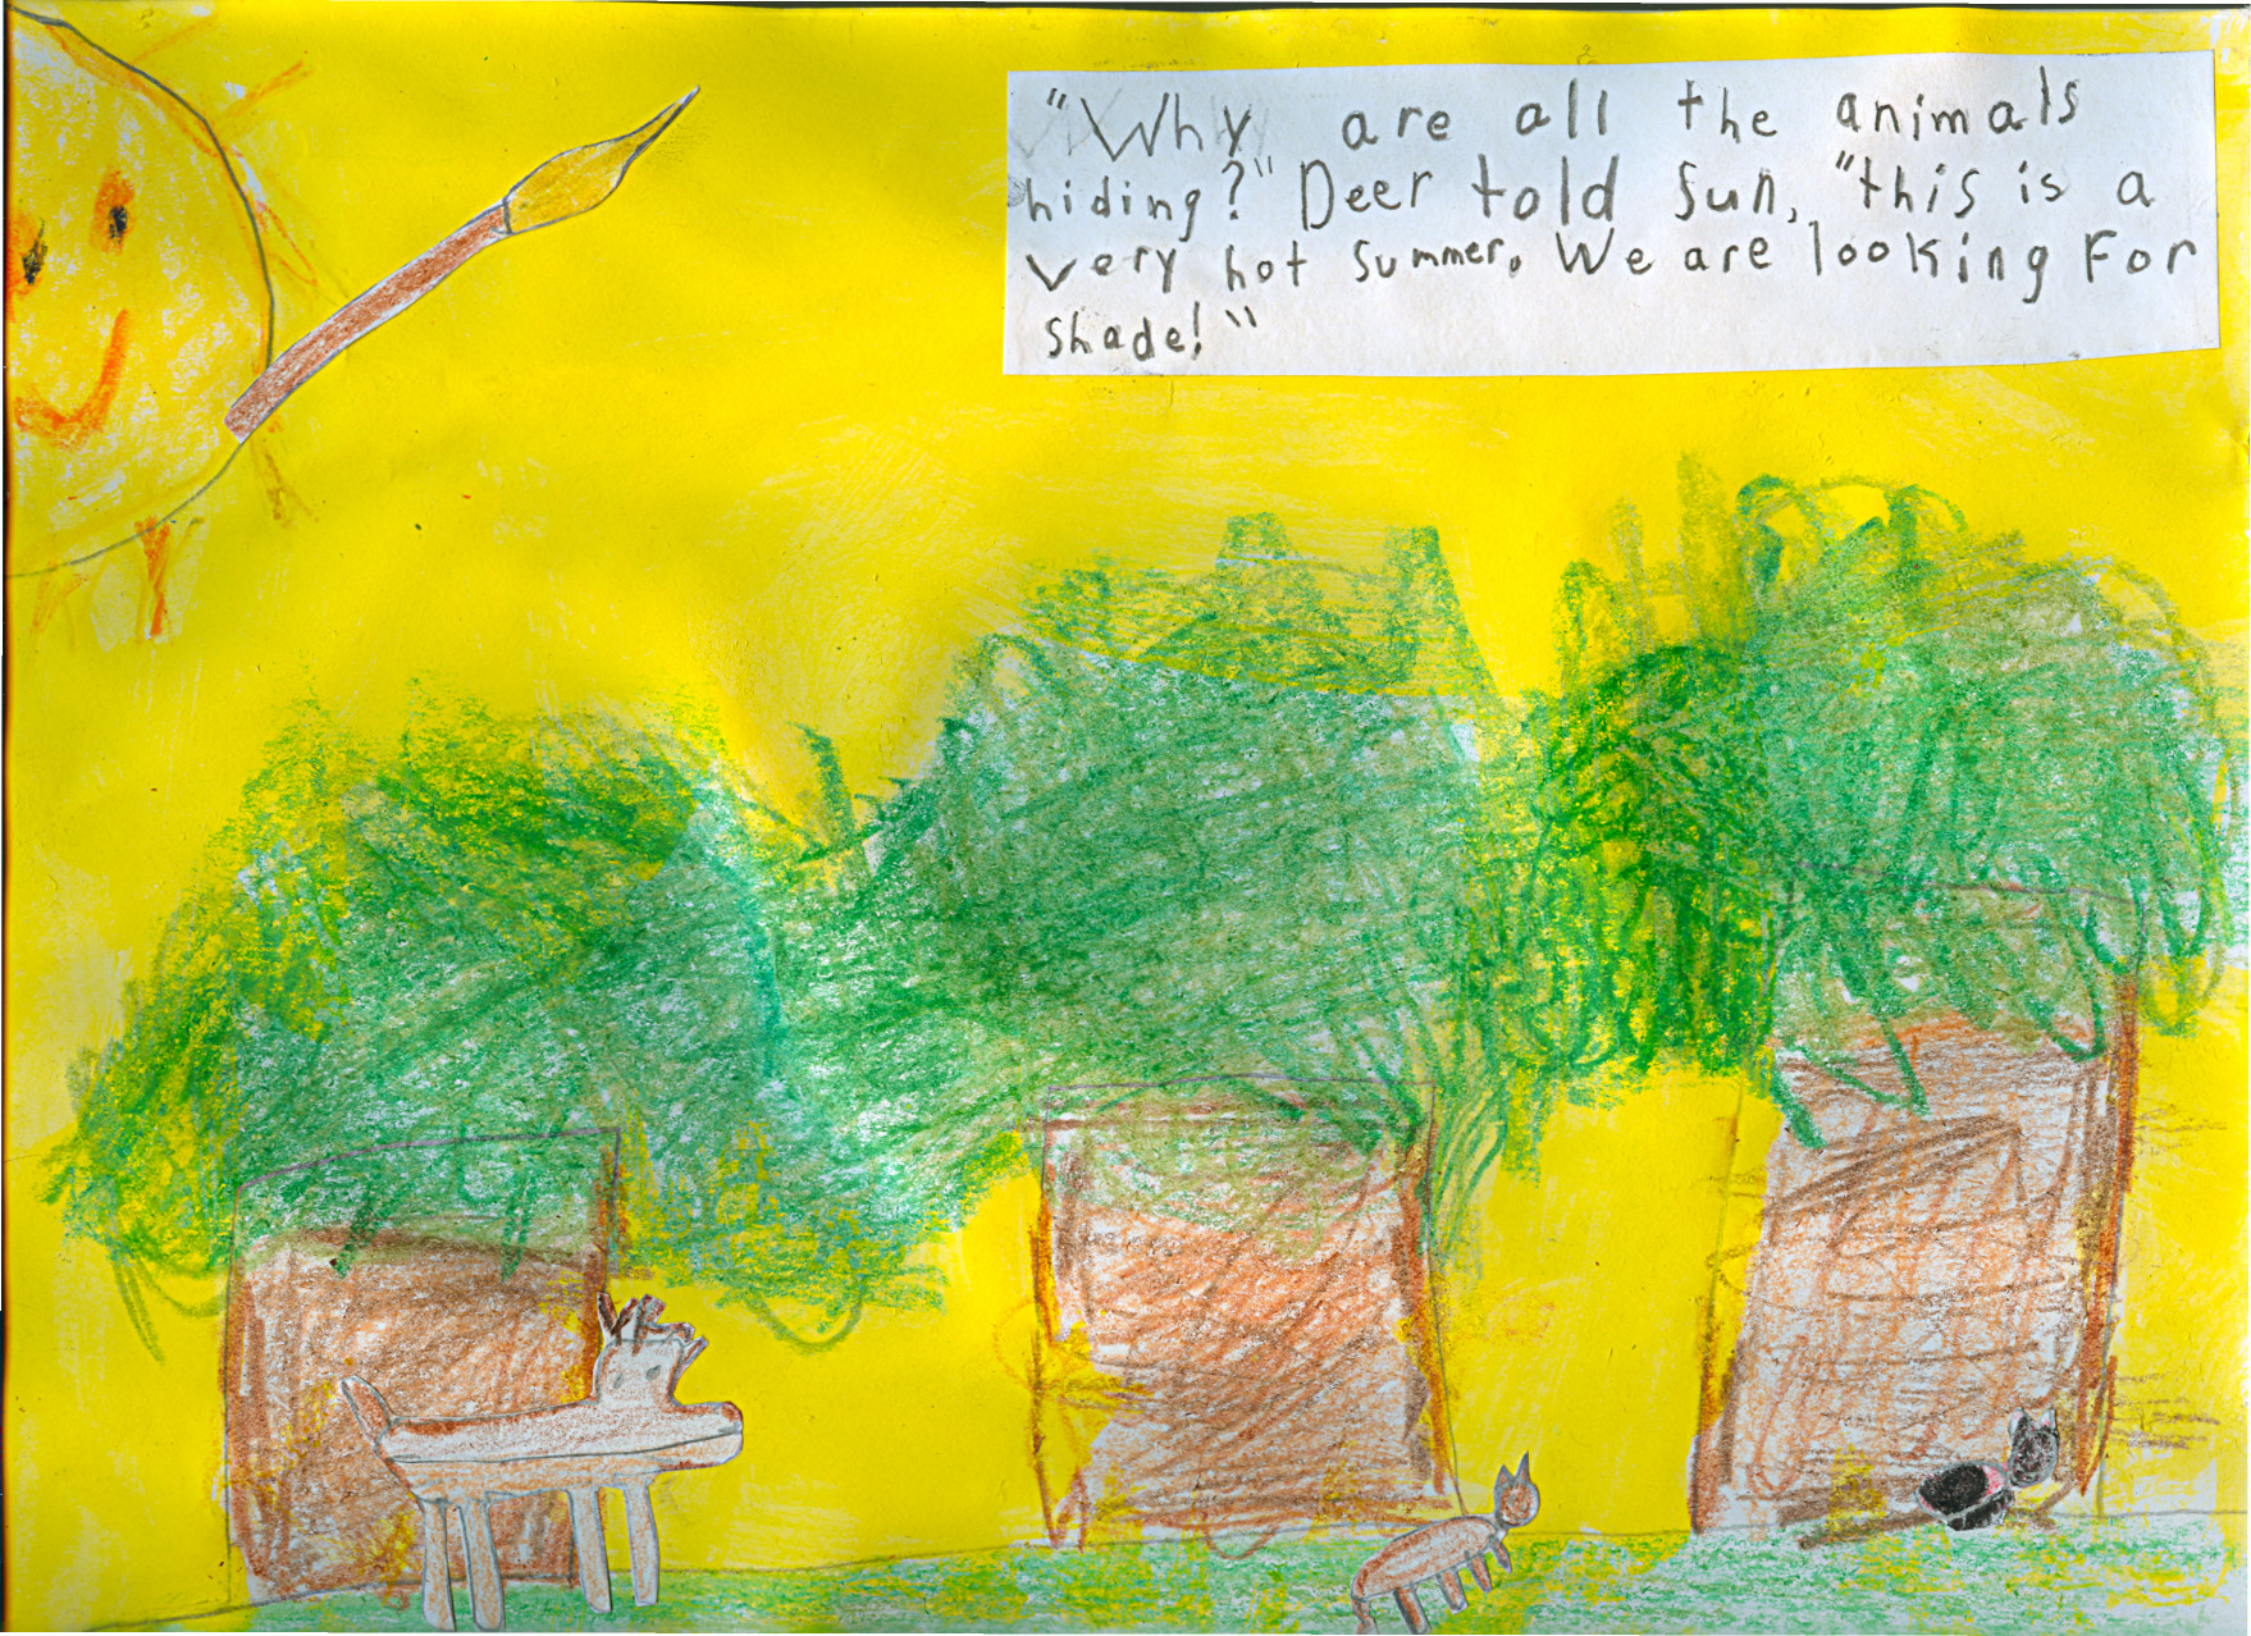
Painting the Sky

One day sun was playing and Saw Earth was really sad. She was sad because her sky was very black.

Sun wanted to help his friend out. Sun went to ask some of his universe friends to help him find a color to paint Earth's sky.

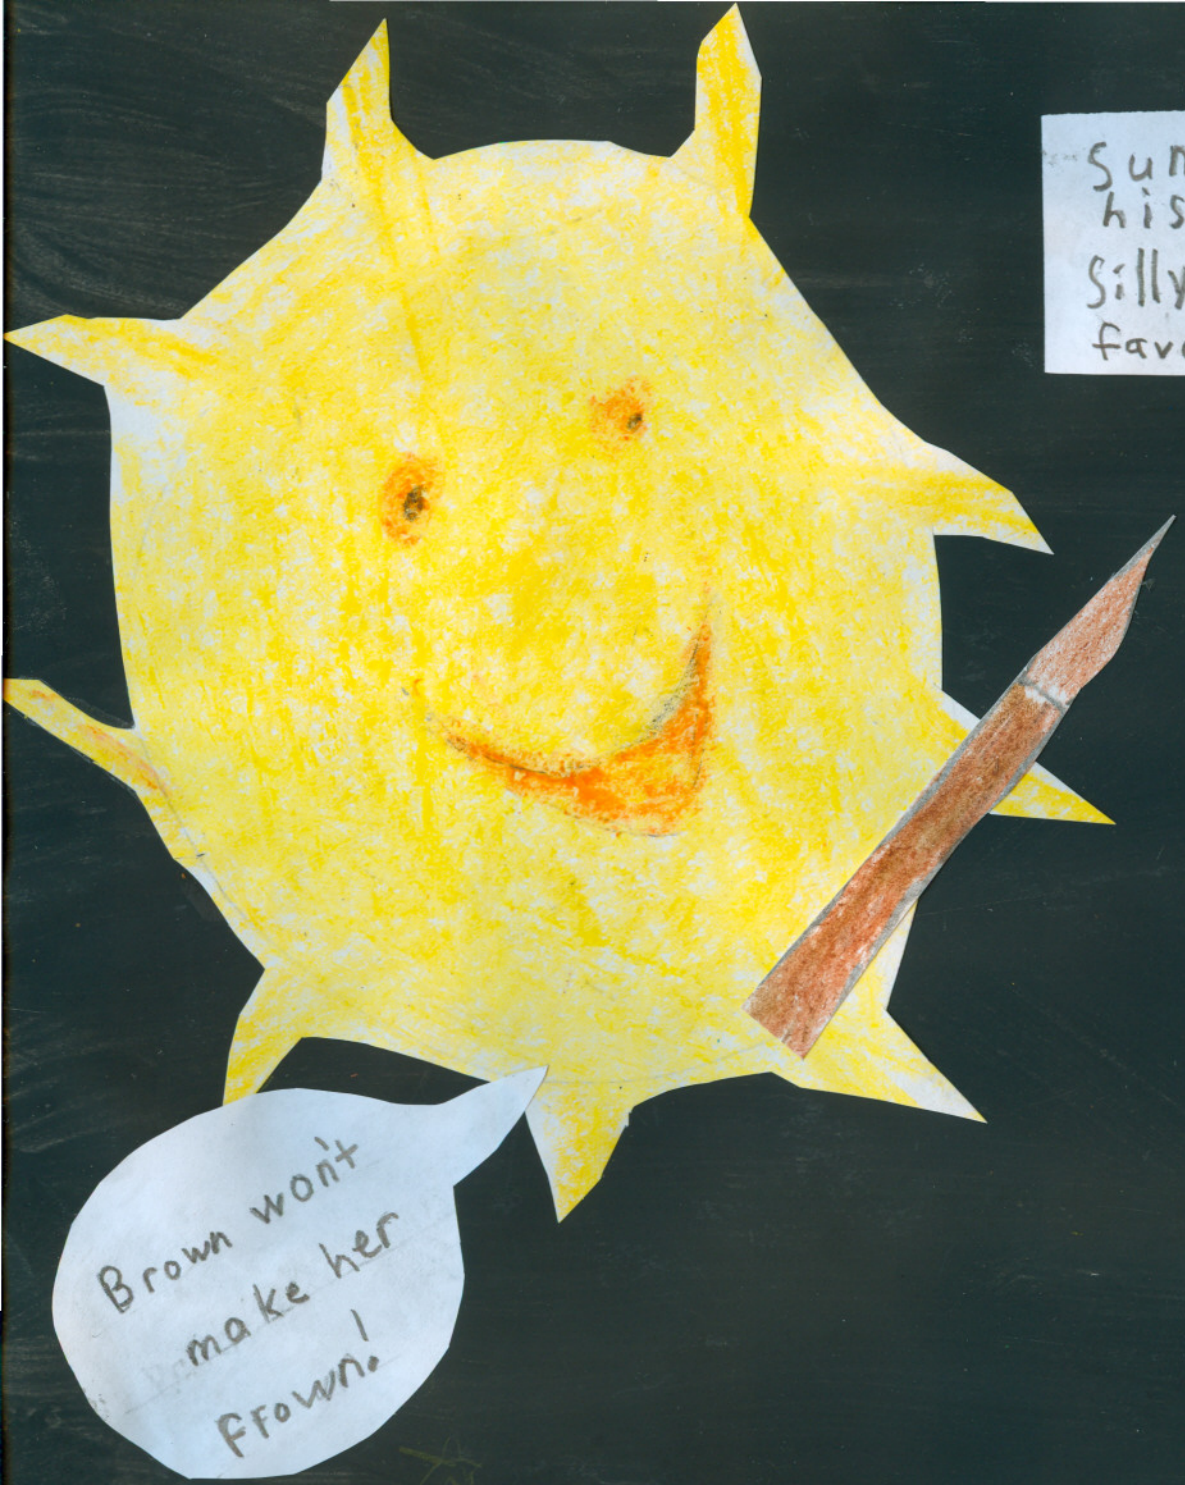


His friend Venus said to color the sky yellow.

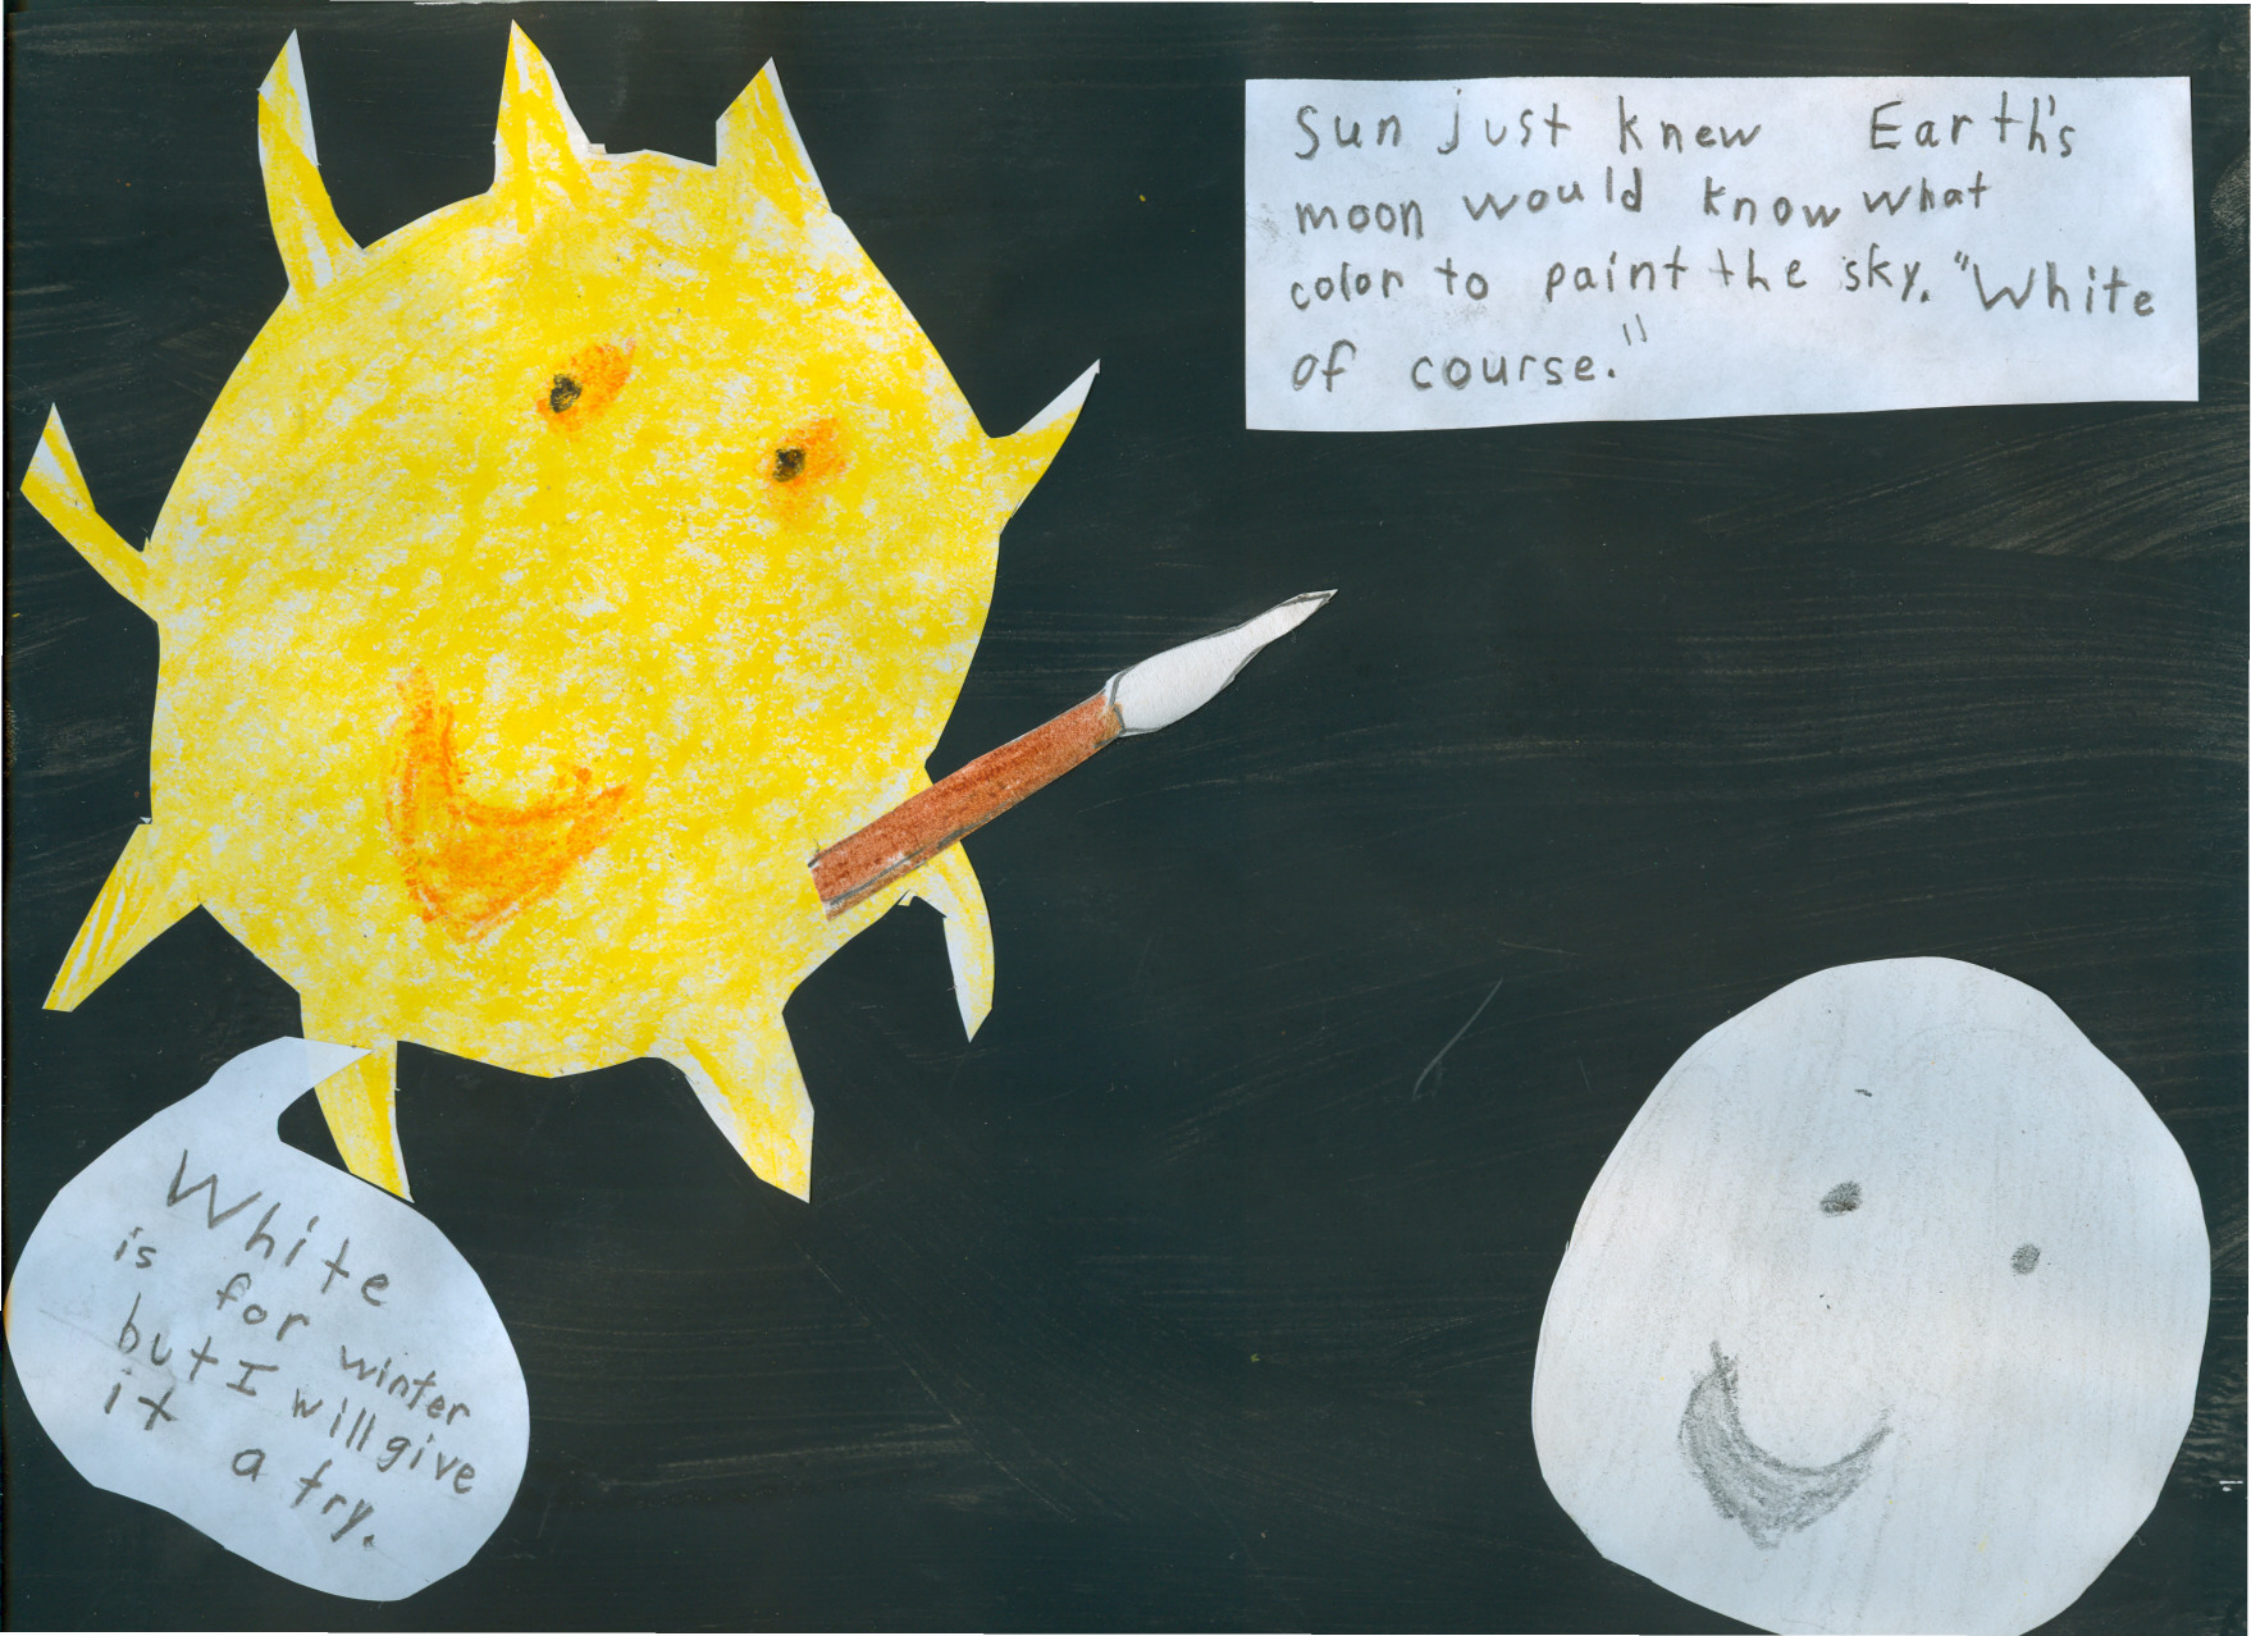


"Why are all the animals hiding?" Deer told Sun, "this is a very hot summer. We are looking for shade!"

Sun felt sad so he asked his farthest friend Pluto.
Silly Sun, you should paint the sky my favorite color.



Soon many animals were sleeping. Some even went on vacation for a long time.



Sun just knew Earth's moon would know what color to paint the sky. "White of course."
White is for winter but I will give it a try.

Sun didn't like this color.
His Earth's friends wouldn't come out in the cold white winter.

Sun asked Earth what color to paint her sky,

You should paint my sky blue and green for me. Then we will see!

All the animals were happy. Everything looked beautiful.

Now see how happy
Earth is!
