On planet Peaco there lived Peacos. They were baffled because nobody came to visit. They decided humans didn't know they existed, so they decided to go tell them. They held a science fair to choose who would go, and a raffle for one extra spot, which Reginald Peaco won.

They checked the little planet
next to the sun. "Whoa," they said, "this is too hot."
But Ice Peaco made an icehouse for them, so they could chill out.

At the next planet, they said, "We can't get through the rings."
Then Pilot Percos remembered, "my flight helmet will plot us a course."

"maybe it's the big blue planet," they thought, but they complained,
"this is too boring." Disco Disco said,
"my disco ball will unboore you."

On the next planet they said, "It's too cold" (except for Ice Peaco).
But Fire Peaco said, "My plasma heater will warm you."

They said, "maybe it was that blue and white planet we skipped." So they went back and found humans! The humans were surprised but friendly.
